Bells Across America For Fallen Service Members

On September 22, 2022, Navy regions across the globe participated in the 7th Annual Bells Across America For Fallen Service Members, a ceremony to Honor and Remember our Fallen Service Members and ensure their families know the Navy will never forget the Fallen or those they left behind.

Over 165 names were read and a three bell toll honored any Service Member whose name was not read aloud.

Thirty-six Navy Installations participated worldwide and approximately 2,647 guests were in attendance.

No Navy Employment Required

The Navy Gold Star Program provides support to surviving family members of Sailors who died while on active duty, regardless of your loved one's military branch, location, or manner of death. Coordinators strive to be a resource and embody the program mission of connecting with surviving family members of active duty death through engagement, creating a culture of remembrance. Our coordinators are located all over the United States and are here to serve as the trusted connection to the Navy for as long as family members desire.

N9 Director's Corner...Wow! We have amazing teams out there! The end of summer is approaching and I cannot believe how the time is flying by. I really thought about the topic for this month's Director's Corner and wanted to provide some thanks to each of you. I have visited some of our locations recently and plan to see all the regions with site visits over the next six months, time and travel permitting. What I have seen in the field is absolute dedication. Our teams have so much dedication to supporting our Sailors, Marines, families, DoD civilians and others. The last two and a half years during this pandemic have been one of the most challenging times we have ever faced in our programs. Many of our programs have been operating non-stop since the pandemic began, which brings me to the topic of "COVID fatigue." Pandemic burnout affects everyone differently and takes on many forms, including physical fatigue, stress, anxiety, exacerbation of mental health issues, and negative mood disposition. Your childcare workers, FFSP teams, MWR Fitness professionals and Food & Beverage personnel, along with many other frontline employees at our installations, have worked diligently to continue to take care of our patrons through it all – without missing a beat! Bells Across America For Fallen Service Members

By Stephanie Hunter, Navy Gold Star Program Analyst

In association with Gold Star Mother's and Family's Day, which is celebrated the last Sunday in September, the Navy Gold Star Program, along with Navy Mutual and in coordination with Navy installations across the country, will host the 7th Annual Bells Across America for Fallen Service Members ceremony on Sept. 22.

Bells have been used for centuries by the Navy for timekeeping, safety and communication, to sound alarms, in ceremonies and events, and to signal the presence of important persons. However, during these ceremonies, the bells rung will not signal anyone's presence; instead, they will toll in their absence.

Bells Across America provides service members, survivors and members of the community an opportunity to commemorate the life and service of those who died while on active duty. The primary focus and mission of the Navy Gold Star Program is to provide an unprecedented level of service and commitment to our Navy Gold Star families. Bells Across America for Fallen Service Members is one way the Navy recognizes the sacrifices of our fallen heroes and the Gold Star families left behind.

For more information on ceremonies, please contact your local Navy Gold Star coordinator, or send a message to www.facebook.com/navygoldstar or www.navygoldstar.com. No Navy endorsement of sponsors implied.

September is Suicide Prevention Month

Suicide Prevention Month is an opportunity to re-energize the conversation about suicide prevention and set a positive tone about being there for yourself and others throughout the year. Connection is critical in preventing suicide, building resilience, and maintaining overall psychological and emotional wellness. Positive social relationships and supportive community connections can help buffer the effects of risk factors in people's lives. Use this month to find everyday ways to connect with others—and ways to carry that forward into the coming months. Bringing a friend a cup of coffee, sharing a meal together, asking how someone is doing, or lending a listening ear may seem small, but these small ACTs can have a big impact when someone is feeling disconnected. 1 Small ACT can make a difference and save a life. If you notice anything unusual about a friend or family member, one conversation- 1 Small ACT- can open the door for support by breaking the silence and facilitating early intervention. If you think someone you know is having trouble navigating stress, ACT (Ask, Care, Treat):

- ASK- Ask directly, "Are you thinking of killing yourself?"
- CARE- Listen without judgment and show that you care. Phrases like, "nothing you're going through changes how I feel about you" or "I care about you no matter what, and we're going to get through this together" show empathy.
- TREAT- Get help immediately and don't leave the person alone. Call 988 or take them to the closest medical professional for help.

For more ways to be there for the people in your life, visit www.facebook.com/ProjectSmallACT or www.twitter.com/ProjSmallACT.
